

Preflop Texas Hold'em Poker All-In Probabilities

The following table contains the typical Preflop All-In Situations in Texas Hold'em Poker. Experienced Poker Players know these odds of by heart. Again, the values are approximations, which suffice for regular play.

Name	Hand1	Hand2	Win1	Win2
High Pair against lower Pair			80 %	20 %
Pair against two Overcards			55 %	45 %
Pair against two suited connecting Overcards			50 %	50 %
Pair against two lower cards			85 %	15 %
Pair against higher and lower card			70 %	30 %
Pair against a lower card and a card of the same value.			90 %	10 %
Pair against a higher card and a card of the same value.			68 %	32 %
Two identical cards and two cards not of the same value (Domination)			75 %	25 %
Two high cards against two low cards.			65 %	35 %
A high and a low card against two cards of middle value.			60 %	40 %
Highest and third highest card against lowest and second highest card.			62 %	38 %

Rules-of-the-thumb:

- Suited cards give increase the probability of winning by about 2 %.
- Connecting Cards also give u an extra 2 %
- Suited Connectors give u an extra 5%